

Finomics AG is a financial boutique in the European capital market. It contributes to climate protection and is involved in the social sector. For the implementation of our various sustainability projects we want to strengthen our small team.

Therefore we are looking for a

Portfolio Manager ESG (m/f/d)
80 – 100%

The following main tasks are waiting for you:

- Responsibility for the portfolio management for our fund with sustainable investments
- Preparation of project documents such as fact sheets, business plans and presentations
- Responsibility in the function as investment advisor of ongoing projects and funds
- Product development (support in structuring project financing and fund concepts)
- Assumption of operational tasks such as sustainability reporting and preparation of documents for the committees of ongoing projects and funds
- Further development of ESG integration in the investment process
- Development of our sustainable investment guidelines, ESG data capabilities and related platforms and tools
- Risk and compliance tasks of individual project investments
- Support the implementation of sustainability frameworks and standards throughout the investment process and in product documentation

You bring:

- Completed Master's degree (preferably in finance or business administration).
- Several years of professional experience in portfolio management
- Experience with project finance and investment funds
- Many years of ESG experience in the investment sector
- Expertise in sustainability standards, models and best market practices
- Very good MS Office user skills
- Stylish correspondence in German (C2 level)
- Good knowledge of written and spoken English (B2 level)
- Service-oriented personality with a structured way of working, a high degree of reliability and independence
- Ability to work in a team
- Discreet, accurate, independent and flexible

What we offer:

- Socially committed and responsible employer
- A meaningful activity in the field of sustainability
- Interesting and very diversified field of activity
- Appreciative working atmosphere in a collegial and committed team
- The possibility of a flexible working relationship

Place of work: In Zurich at a central location

Interested? We look forward to receiving your application!

Mrs. Gertrud Zürcher is looking forward to receiving your complete application documents in electronic form (gzuercher@finomics.ch) and will be happy to answer any questions you may have.